NOTICE OF
FINAL PROMULGATION OF REGULATIONS
October 19, 2026

Pursuant to Section 14-1-10(I)(5) of the Pueblo of Laguna Code, the Pueblo of Laguna Gaming Control Board hereby promulgates as final the attached regulations. Proposed regulations were published for a 30-day comment period, which expired on June 20, 2026.

Only one set of comments was received during the notice and comment period. Laguna Development Corporation ("LDC"), the Pueblo's Gaming Enterprise, submitted voluminous written comments. The Board responded in writing to LDC, including approval of several revisions to the proposed regulations based on LDC's comments. Then, on August 31, 2026, Laguna Tribal Gaming Regulatory Authority ("TGRA") representatives met with LDC representatives to discuss LDC's priority remaining concerns. After discussion, the TGRA representatives recommended, and the Board approved, further revisions to the proposed regulations addressing, in whole or part, many of LDC's priority concerns. Given that back-and-forth and the resulting revisions, the Board departs from its usual practice of including in its notice of promulgation written responses to written comments received during the public comment period.

Further, the Board has also made a modest number of nonmaterial revisions to the proposed regulations to correct punctuation and spacing, and to improve clarity and readability, and to update the pages referred to in the table of contents.

In accordance with Laguna Gaming Control Board Regulation Part 705, these final regulations shall take effect at 4 p.m. on the business day after this notice is posted on the TGRA page of the Pueblo's website. The effective date is therefore October 20, 2026.

The final promulgation of the regulations is attached.
